York Ag Sponsors 2022 Shell Egg Academy at Purdue University

The Shell Egg Academy provides an ideal venue for participants to further their knowledge about egg quality and egg safety.

(York, Pa., September 25, 2022) York Ag, a dynamic supplier of holistic ingredient solutions that optimize animal well-being, became a sponsor of the 2022 Shell Egg Academy (SEA) at Purdue University (September 27-29, 2022). SEA is a learning experience and education opportunity for the egg production and processing industries. Through a combination of interactive classroom experiences taught by expert speakers, and hands-on learning, participants are provided the latest information on egg quality and egg safety.

Organized as a three-day program, SEA provides a deeper dive and training on shell egg food safety on the production side, sanitation food borne illness outbreaks, FDA's egg rule, egg quality impacts, and table egg industry trends from a consumer perspective.

In 1998, York Ag launched its first proprietary product called YORK CALCIUM CHIPS®, the egg laying industry's preferred coarse calcium standard to create a superior eggshell. YORK CALCIUM CHIPS is a cornerstone in layer diets because it is intrinsically related to the formation of an eggshell while supporting skeletal integrity. Having optimal feed calcium levels helps hens replenish their bone reserve while maintaining optimal egg production capabilities.

"We are glad to support the Shell Egg Academy at Purdue. It's a great opportunity for students and industry professionals to engage in class sessions on egg quality and food safety," said Bill Achor, President and CEO of York Ag.

York Ag believes Everyone Deserves a Nutritious Meal®. In the last three decades, York Ag has expanded its ingredients portfolio to include other holistic products supporting animal well-being. "Our ingredient solutions help poultry farmers and nutrition professionals reach the performance and productivity needed in their egg production and processing programs. So, we're delighted to be part of the Shell Egg Academy at Purdue," said Emily Orth, Territory Sales Representative at York Ag and Purdue University alumna (Class of 2022).
