

STAY-BLUE-G

MAKE WATER WORK FOR YOU

Water is a cornerstone of animal well-being – as we work to improve the health of our flocks, water serves as both an essential nutrient and an excellent vehicle for other additives. Stay-Blue-G makes leveraging that vehicle easier than ever before.

Stay-Blue-G is a food-grade, granular blue dye that provides an easy-to-use indicator for your water lines. Whether you're sanitizing, flushing, vaccinating or introducing liquid additives, Stay-Blue-G helps give you the confidence that the product is reaching the end of your water lines. If not, you'll know right away and be able to pinpoint the issue with less time and hassle.

Just add granules to a bucket or drum of water and run through your medicator at 1:128 ratio. Check the sight tubes at the end of each line and be sure you can see blue. If not, work your way back down the water line until you find blue water to pinpoint your issue.

Stay-Blue-G is inactive, so it will not impact the efficacy of any other product you're adding to your water. Additionally, while the blue coloring will last long enough to visually confirm your desired result, it will not permanently stain the water lines or sight tubes. This means you'll be able to use the product repeatedly any time you want to check your lines.

As more research documents the costly impact of poor-quality water and more producers are utilizing water-delivered additives to address health challenges as quickly as possible, Stay-Blue-G is an efficient and cost-effective way to ensure your investment in your flock is achieving its desired impact. Stay-Blue-G is an FDA-approved material and is human food grade, minimizing handling risks while mixing. It is also Kosher Certified and approved for use in non-GMO and organic operations.
